Corporate Organizations Sponsor National Trans Health Conference

ATLANTA, GEORGIA – The National Trans Health Conference is pleased to announce that Georgia Voice and Visit Eau Claire have come on board as sponsors of the 5th annual conference under the theme, “Transgender Wholeness: Mind, Body & Spirit.” The conference is slated for November 8th through 10th, 2018 at the Hilton Atlanta Airport, in Atlanta Georgia.

Someone Cares, Inc., Founder and CEO, Ronnie Bass shared “Sponsors of the conference allow the agency to financially augment the vital programs and services geared specifically to Transgender cares and access in order to assist the Transgender demographic in taking control of their lives and making sound health decisions.”

Georgia Voice is the media outlet of record of the LGBTQ community in Atlanta and throughout the state. With a bi-weekly print edition and a 24/7 updated website, Georgia Voice has proven to be indispensable to its readers since it launched in March, 2010. In its short history, Georgia Voice has earned numerous awards for its journalism and its design. In addition to its core products, Georgia Voice also annually publishes “Destination: Gay Atlanta,” the city’s official LGBTQ travel guide, in partnership with the Atlanta Conventions and Visitors Bureau (ACVB). Georgia Voice is the conference media partner.

Joining the conference for the first time is Visit Eau Claire as the Hotel Key Card Sponsor. Visit Eau Claire is the marketing organization for their university city in Northern Wisconsin. Eau Claire is making a name for itself as a creative hub with a hip and homegrown music and arts scene and a robust entrepreneurial culture, all engulfed in a culture of inclusivity.

As the largest Transgender serving organization in the Southeastern United States, Someone Cares’ R.E.A.L. / T. (Reaching, Educating, Assisting, and Liberating Trans) program is created to assist the Trans community in garnering respect in a society that too often denies this for them. The goal of the R.E.A.L.T. program is to provide a safe space to empower transgender individuals to seek higher education, job placement, housing, skill building, physical and mental health through empathic support.

The planning committee for the conference is actively seeking sponsors, exhibitors and advertisers to join with us in making this year’s event a success. Register now at www.s1catl.org and join with us as we continue to build on the continually needed awareness of the Transgender community from a health, legal, social and advocacy perspective. Help us in our effort to exemplify what acceptance look and feels like as we promote education on services and trends critical to our community’s needs and forge new solutions to meet the challenges of our time.

We are looking forward to meeting you at the 5th Annual, 2018 Transgender Health Conference! Save the dates and mark your calendar and, even more important, register today!
